FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Introducing AgencyWeb™ ... an Integrated Browser-Based Solution That Saves Public Safety Agencies Significant Time and Dollars

Dallas, TX (January 07, 2007) Orion Communications introduces AgencyWeb, a comprehensive browser-based solution for Public Safety agencies that automates outdated paper processes critical to agency performance.

Initially designed for law enforcement, Orion's PoliceMANAGER public safety solution has shown significant time and dollar saving for law enforcement agencies. Now after years of designing integrated systems between law enforcement and judicial agencies, the PoliceMANAGER solution has been re-branded as AgencyWeb and is being extended to reach both Fire and EMS agencies.

"Orion has focused on local government solutions since 1996. As a certified Cisco Premier Partner and strategic alliance with companies like AT&T and TriTech Software Systems, the time is right to extend our reach to additional public safety segments. Our goal is simple – provide public safety agencies web-based solutions that save time and reduce cost at a price point that is easy on agency budgets," says company president Leslie DeLatte.

AgencyWeb modules can be deployed as needed to coordinate administrative and management tasks – from scheduling to managing administrative requests, assets and more. Each module works together and synchronizes with 3rd party systems ... like RMS, 911/CAD, HR, and Court Case systems, so data is entered once and shared where it is needed.

AgencyWeb currently includes public safety modules for shift scheduling, personnel management, applicant tracking, training, evidence tracking, subpoena management, asset management; impound lot and tow-company management.
