Orion Communications, Inc. Receives Women's Business Enterprise National Council Certification

Dallas, TX (January 10, 2014) – Orion Communications, a public sector workforce management software provider, has received national certification as a Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC) by the Women's Business Council Southwest, a regional certifying partner of the Women's Business Enterprise National Council.

WBENC's national standard of certification implemented by the Southwest Women's Business Council is a meticulous process including an in-depth review of the business and site inspection. The certification process is designed to confirm the business is at least 51% owned, operated and controlled by a woman or women.

Orion Communications is a chief provider of intelligence workforce management software for the Public Sector. The WBENC certification of Orion Communications as a woman-owned business means the company will now be recognized more prominently among the growing number of software providers with supplier/vendor diversity programs.

"We undertook this important certification to become a resource for public sector agencies and governmental set-asides for women-owned vendor companies," states Orion Director of Sales and Marketing Jackie Belasky. "This allows us to better serve our public sector customers as well as our vendor-partners by helping them meet their supplier diversity initiatives."

By including women-owned businesses among their vendors, corporations, and government agencies demonstrate their commitment to fostering diversity and the continued development of their supplier/vendor diversity programs.

About WBENC

The Women's Business Enterprise National Council is the nation's largest third party certifier of businesses owned and operated by women in the United States. WBENC is a resource for the more than 700 US companies and government agencies that rely on WBENC's certification as an integral part of their supplier diversity programs.
